BOMBS!

Sensational Testimony at Chicago.

A Frenchman Who Had Mercy on His Antagonist in a Duel Near Paris This Morning.

Forest Fires in Wisconsin and Already 100,000,000 Feet of Timber Burned Up.

ANARCHISTS.

The Revolutionists Exposed by One of Them.

CHICAGO, July 17.—When the court was opened this morning Waller was again placed on the stand. The witness testified that a bomb was given him by Fischer Thanksgiving day last with instructions to use it on the police if they interfered with the meeting to be held that evening at the Market street square. He kept it in his house for two weeks and then the witness went to the haymarket meeting armed with the dynamite bomb.

At this point Waller was shown a photograph of an anarchist named Schnarbett, which he identified and it was placed in evidence. The witness continued his testimony saying, that Schnarbett was at the meeting.

"Did Schnarbett say anything at the meeting?"

"He said we should tell other members what we had decided to do. He said the thing should commence in another place."

"What do you mean by the thing?"

"The revolution."

A BLOODLESS DUEL.

Two Frenchmen Fight With Pistols, But Come Out Unhurt.

PARIS, July 17.—The duel between General Boulanger and Baron De Lareinty, was fought at 9 o'clock this morning. The weapons were pistols, and the place of meeting was in a forest near Mendon five miles west of Paris. When the command fire was given, Baron De Larienty shot at Gen. Boulanger. The latter coolly awaited the result of the shot without firing himself. Finding himself untouched by his opponent's bullet, Gen. Boulanger raised his pistol and fired into the air. The combatants then left the field. Gen. Boulanger returned to Paris and went straight to his office at the war department. A large crowd assembled to learn the result of the duel and they gave Gen. Boulanger an ovation when he appeared.

The London correspondent of the Journal Des Debats says the Earl of Roseberry, the British foreign minister, has sent to Russia a precise and emphatic protest against the closing of Batoum.

Witness testified that a meeting was held in Bohemian hall Sunday, May 2. Engel and Fischer (two of the defendants) and a number of other socialists were present. Engle submitted a plan according to which, as soon it came to conflict between the police and northwestern groups, bombs should be thrown into the police stations. Then the rifle men of Lehr, und wehr verein, were to be posted at a distance and shoot all who should come out of the station house. That was to be kept up until they were whipped. We were to kill every body who opposed us. Some one in the meeting opposed the plan. I don't know the man, but he said it would be better to get into crowds in the city and there kill people right and left."

Another man opposed this plan. He said: "We could not know our neighbors in the crowd. We might kill our friends by mistake." Engels plan was finally adopted by the meeting.

The oldest brewry in Indiana is near Evansville. It was erected in 1837. At that time the Indians were still numerous.

FOREST FIRES

Devastate the Lumber Region of Wisconsin.

FLORENCE, Wis., July 17.—The Drought in this section continues and the forest fires are wide spread. A prominent lumber man says that at least 100,000,000 feet of pine lumber has been destroyed already in the Menaminee region and that the timber loss by fire is the greatest for years.

THE CROPS.

The Prospects of a Good Crop Not very Favorable.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 17.—A special crop report to the Pioneer Press states: Wheat harvesting has commenced in southern Minnesota and Dakota. In northern Minnesota and Dakota harvesting will not begin much before August 1. It is now the general expectation that Minnesota and Dakota will not produce more than three-fourths as much wheat as last year. The hot weather of the past ten days has been very favorable to corn in the northwest.

Charles Mitchell, the pugilist, left New York for England with $23,000. Three years ago he landed on this side of the Atlantic without a dollar.

SINCE he began making up the Lincoln memorial collection, Mr. Isaac R. Keyes, of Chicago, has acquired a good deal of correspondence bearing upon the subject of Lincoln's life. The most remarkable letter in the lot was written by William H. Herndon, and bears date of Springfield, Ill., April 14, 1865, from which the following is an extract: I became acquainted with him (Lincoln) in 1834, and in 1843 Mr. Lincoln and I became partners in the land business. Our partnership was never legally dissolved until the night of his assassination, but after his election he would take none of the fees of our land business. Mr. Lincoln was not appreciated in this city, nor was he at all times the most popular man among us. The cause of his unpopularity—rather the want of popularity here—arose from two causes: First, he did his own thinking; and, second, he had the courage of his convictions, and boldly and fearlessly expressed them. I speak generally, and especially of his political life. * * * Mr. Lincoln was a sad man, a gloomy man, and hence he was not very social in his nature. He seemed to me to be an unhappy man at times. He dearly loved his children, but he was not the happiest man in the world domestically. As a friend Mr. Lincoln was true—true as steel. He thought in his life and lived in his thought. In many things Mr. Lincoln was peculiar. He did not trust any man with the secrets of his ambitious soul. He was a wonderful man, and his fame will grow on the ages.

"PIECE WORK."

Mr. F. D. Casanave Writes Two Able Papers on the Theory.

Mr. F. D. Casanave, master mechanic of the Pittsburg machine department, has contributed two articles on "Piece Work" to the New York Railroad Gazette. Mr. Casanave wields a strong pen and proves in the first article that piece work is advantageous in railroad shops, even with the additional clerical force it incurs. In his second letter he considers "piece work" in its relations to the labor difficulties. In this paper Mr. Casanave is very forcible and proves that piece work is a solution of the labor question inasmuch as every man is paid according to his skill and ability to make money for his employers. Every man stands on his own merits and, as is the scheme in the printing offices the world over, men work for themselves in a measure and reap the benefit of their own knowledge, skill and industry, without contributing to the support of their indolent neighbors. He insists that workmen should get good prices for their piece work so that the aggregate would be equal to the average wages prevailing.

NEW PAVEMENT.

Brick is a Recommended as a Good Article for Little Money.

Fort Wayne is in need of new pavement and the city officers are discussing the various materials in the market. Mr. E. C. Rurode tells us that brick pavement is the latest and possibly the best and cheapest sort of street blocking discovered. It is now in use at Decatur, Ill., and is so satisfactory that the material is adopted there generally. Mr. J. R. Hoffman, a brother of Messrs. W. H. and E. A. Hoffman, of this city, writes Mayor Muhler that brick pavement has been in use at Charleston, West Virginia, for fourteen years and is now better than any pavement in Fort Wayne. He discribes the pavement as smooth, solid and intended to bear heavy work. The brick are laid on a plank saturated with coal tar, with a surface of sand and cost $1.07 per square yard. Mr. Hoffman has frequently visited Fort Wayne and is anxious that the pavement be tested.

WAR IN MEXICO.

The Troops Congregating and Preparing for Battle.

NEW LAREDO, July 17.—The excitement ran high yesterday, caused by sensational reports coming in from Mier and Guerrero. It is said the whole country in that section is in arms and recruits are going there from the American side of the river. This city has been chosen as headquarters for the government troops in the northern part of the Tamaulapas. Last evening the Monterey train, over the Mexican National, brought in 250 troops, who immediately went into camp at the government barracks, and are awaiting marching orders from Matamoras. They are commanded by Colonel Parras.

ST. LOUIS, July 17.—A special from Brownsville, Texas, says: "The revolution in Tamaulapas, Mexico, appears to be increasing daily and troops in this section seem utterly unable to cope with it. A number have crossed into Texas to steal arms and a sheriff and the United States troops have gone to disperse them."

GONE TO CANADA.

A Pension Office Clerk Leaves Suddenly to Avoid Arrest.

PITTSBURG, July 17.—Samuel K. Gay, chief clerk of the Pittsburg pension office, has probably gone to Canada. Yesterday Pension Agent Russell Errett discovered that Gay had forged his name to three checks, aggregating $800. An information for forgery was made and a warrant was issued, but too late. It is believed the amount from forgery and embezzlement will reach $15,000 to $20,000. Gay was the son of wealthy parents and some years ago married a relative of Mayor Fultons. He was an exemplary young man.

CASHIER BELTZER.

The Absconding Banker Brings Down Another Bank.

OMAHA, Neb., July 17.—Cashier Beltzer, who wrecked the Dundy county bank, has also wrecked the Chase county bank at Imperial, of which he was the president. Chase is the youngest county in the state, and the bank of which the fugitive was president, has been in operation only a short time. Its patrons were homesteaders and ranchmen, who will lose about $35,000. The assets of the bank will not exceed $3,000.

TERRIBLE CASUALTY.

Two Children Scalded in a Boiler Explosion.

WELLSVILLE, Ohio, July 17.—An upright boiler in the boiler shop of Joseph Fasett, on Second street, exploded this morning, wrecking almost the entire building. None of the employes were injured. Two children of Mrs. Maggie Driscoll, Clara aged five and Mary aged three, were playing in the door-yard, opposite the boiler room and were caught and held fast by the debris, while the scalding steam poured over them. Clara was dead when taken from the ruins and Maggie is terribly scalded and may not recover.

The first district democratic congressional convention met at Boonville Thursday. The opposing candidates were Major G. V. Menzies, of Posey, and Hon. J. E McCullough, of Gibson. After wrangling from 12 till 6 o'clock, Chairman Curtis declared the convention adjourned till the second Tuesday in August, and the Menzies men withdrew. The McCullough men remained, organized a new convention and nominated their candidate, giving him 137 votes, two being polled for Menzies. Posy county was not represented.

Attorney General Hord, in answer to questions from the governor, decides that if a justice of the peace is his own successor he must take the oath and give bonds, or the office may be declared vacant. A justice acting without bond is an officer de facto, and his acts are valid and his sureties liable on the old bond for misconduct in office. In certifying to an appointment of a justice to the governor for a commission it is necessary that the record should contain such a recitation of facts that the governor may determine his authority to act and the facts should show a vacancy.

The edition will be very large.

GEN. DAN. E. SICKLES," as a gossipy writer says, "is spoken of as next Mayor of New York. I saw this well-known war veteran the other day. He drives a pretty little coupe with the escutcheon of the United States on its panels, and is frequently accompanied by a handsome woman, the Spanish lady he married at Madrid, when he was American Minister there. The General has had an exciting history if any man ever had. Yet, how well he looks! His hair is still dark, and he holds his head proudly thrown back like a fiery boy of 20."

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by you Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We polticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

Catarrhal Dangers.

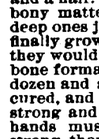

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Congress, 12th District,
HON. ROBERT LOWRY, of Allen.

HERMAN REEDLE was digging a well at McAllister, I. T. He arranged a charge for blasting, lighted the fuse, and was hoisted toward the surface, forty feet above. When half way up the rope broke, and he fell to the bottom. He tried to grasp and extinguish the fuse, but was too late. The charge exploded, Herman was blown nearly to the top of the well, and fell back dead, with every bone in his body broken.

JUDGE DAVIS' recommendations for office were curiosities. He was too jealous of his independent position to ask favors of the Republican administration, and was too good-natured to refuse an application. So he always wrote a letter informing whoever it was addressed to that he could not and would not recommend anyone for appointment, but he had the honor to commend the bearer as a gentleman of the highest character, etc., and hoped he would succeed in securing the place he sought.

THE LOS Angeles Herald mentions a plant which is said to be a sure cure for snake bites. The plant is called the "spider lily," and displays a beautiful flower that makes it a fine ornament for yards and gardens. The leaves can be dried and preserved for years. When needed for a sting or a bite they can be moistened and applied in the form of a poultice to the wound. If used when green there is no necessity for moistening the plant, as all that is necessary is to bruise the leaves and apply them to the wound.

A STATISTICAL expert calculates that if 1,000,000 babies started together in the race of life, 150,000 would drop out in the first year, 53,000 in the second, and 22,000 in the third year. At the end of forty-five years about half of them would be still in the race. Sixty years would see 370,000 gray heads still at it. At the end of eighty years there would be 97,000 remaining on the track; fifteen years later the number would be reduced to 233, and the winner would quit the track forever at the age of 108.

THE Victoria Colonist says that one of the most terrible scenes at the burning of the town of Vancouver was witnessed at the opening of the jail by those in charge, followed by a rush of the prisoners into saloons, of which they took complete charge. Becoming crazed with liquor, they rushed through the streets, doing all the mischief they could, and terrorized everybody with whom they came in contact. It was a veritable carnival of crime, which, added to the other indescribable horrors, made the scene a horrible and revolting one.

OF D. D. Home, the lately deceased Spiritualist, the New York Tribune says: "It has been again and again affirmed of Mr. Home by witnesses of unimpeached character that they have seen him plunge his hands with impunity into a blazing coal fire and take up the glowing embers like so many strawberries; seat himself upon a heavy mahogany dining table and raise with them several feet into the air, and after floating horizontally head foremost out of the windows at a height many yards from the ground, sail tranquilly around a castle tower and come in again unharmed on the other side."

A GOTHAM broker has, by taking advantage of the speculative tendencies of Congressmen, made a neat pile of money during the present session of Congress. Early during the session he went to Washington and acquainted himself with members of the Pacific Railroad Committee. From them he obtained accurate knowledge as to the time when the extension bill would be called up in the House. Whenever this subject was publicly agitated Pacific Railroad stock fluctuated violently, and the young broker was able to call the turn for his speculative Congressional friends to mutual advantage.

SAM JONES, in a recent sermon at St. Paul, said: "I never got down low enough to preach against tobacco. There are so many other more important subjects to preach about that I haven't got time to give my attention to tobacco. A man can't chew tobacco and be a gentleman, but he can use tobacco and be a Christian. I know it, for I did it for thirteen years, just as sure as you live. The best man I ever knew chewed tobacco every day, and one of the meanest men I ever knew never touched it in his life. Let me tell you, I'd rather be a member of the church and do my whole duty most of the time and once in a while have a big drunk, than to be one of those trifling, sunshiny, no-account members, drunk or sober. Quit your meanness! there's gospel enough in these words for the whole world."

A COMPREHENSIVE document has just been issued from the Government printing office at Washington. It contains all the testimony recently taken before the United States Senate Committe on Agriculture and Forestry in regard to the manufacture and sale of imitation dairy products. Like the evidence in many other disputed cases, there is a great deal of it, both pro and con. One set of men called as experts testified that these imitation products are just as good and healthful as the pure butter and cheese; some say they are much more cleanly than the average material that is made on the farm, and a few claim that both the consumer and the farmer have been immensely benefited, the one by a cheapening process which enables him to enjoy the substitute for something he could not afford to buy, and the other by providing a much better market for his property than could otherwise be found. The first and last of these positions are especially opposed to the testimony of others. Figures are adduced to prove the claim that the dairy interests have suffered immensely by the manufacture of butterine and oleomargarine, while Prof. E. D. Salmon, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, says it admits of no doubt whatever that "the fat of animals slaughtered for food may contain objectionable parasites' which are not killed off by the low temperatures at which the substitute is prepared for market. He quotes what many people would regard as ample authority for his assertion, that certain named parasites are found in larger numbers in the connective tissues between the fats than elsewhere, and that "the danger connected with the use of oleomargarine, from the liability of the presence of such worms, which are parasites in man as well as in animals, is one that is deserving of thoughtful consideration."

PAUL HAMILTON HAYNE.

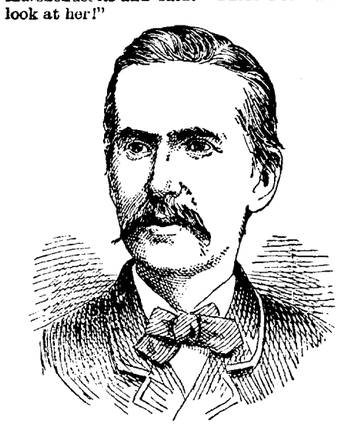

PORTRAIT AND SKETCH OF THE CHIEF SOUTHERN POET.

His Four-Roomed Cottage Among the Sweet Smelling Georgia Pines — His Picturesquely Adorned Study — The Poet and His Books.

A feeling of regret and sadness filled the hearts of those who read recently that Paul H. Hayne, the southern poet, had been suddenly attacked with blood clot on the brain and died next day. Mr. Hayne has long been almost an invalid. He has had slight hemorrhages from the lungs for years. It is only the watchful care of a lovely and loving wife that has kept him able to do any literary work at all.

The whole country will share in the regret at the announcement of Mr. Hayne's death. Gradually he was becoming more and more favorably known as a poet, and his literary contributions were more and more frequent in the best periodicals of the country.

Paul Hayne's history is rather romantic. He comes of a South Carolina family of long descent. His uncle it was, Col. Robert Y. Hayne, who had the memorable controversy with Daniel Webster in the United States senate on the occasion when "Black Dan" passed his celebrated encomium on Massachusetts and said: "There she stands, look at her!"

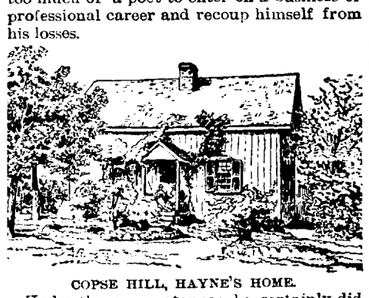

PAUL H. HAYNE.

But he did not have so bad a life of it at first. He was born in Charleston in 1830. His family was well-to-do and he enjoyed all the advantages of wealth and a choice society.

At the time Hayne passed his young manhood there, Charleston was also the center of a literary life which has never since been equaled. It was the home of John C. Calhoun, of Gilmore Sims and of Legare. From these Hayne drew incitements to his young ambition. A good-looking, gallant youth he was, slight and graceful, with piercing black eyes and a clear, dark complexion, whose freshness he retained at the age of 56.

He studied law and was admitted to the bar. He never practiced his profession. Probably in those days he was too busy inditing "sonnets to his lady's eyebrow" to look after clients. He was married at 22 to his devoted, sunny wife.

He was and is still an ultra-southerner. When the war broke out he entered the Confederate army as a member of Gen. Pickens' staff. His health had never been robust, and the exposures of a soldier's life did not help it any. After that, troubles came thick and fast. His mother had been wealthy "befo' de wah." That swept away all. Haynes' future was not promising. He was too much of a poet to enter on a business or professional career and recoup himself from his losses.

COPSE HILL, HAYNE'S HOME.

Under the circumstances, he certainly did the wisest, wholesomest thing. He retired to the lands known as the "Pine Barrens," sixteen miles from Augusta, Ga. In the midst of the oak and pine trees he built a cottage of four rooms, and lived there and wrote poetry. He is a lover of nature, and, like Bryant, the poet of nature. But he had printed verses long before this, in his youth. His first volume was published in Boston, when he was 25 years old. Before the war he had printed three volumes. During the years following 1860 he published his most famous poems. Stirred in all the depths of his soul, he wrote war lyrics. "Beyond the Potomac" was the one most widely circulated. He has issued two volumes since living in the lonely, sweet-smelling woods at Copse Hill.

THE POET'S LIBRARY.

"Legends and Lyrics," which appeared in 1872, is considered the best collection of his works. He is undoubtedly the chief living southern poet. His style is characterized both by strength and daintiness of expression. He ought to have lived many years yet, and done his best work still.

The family at Copse Hill consists of three—father, mother and son. William, the pretty boy of a few years ago, is now a grown man. They have never been anything but poor, yet they are very happy. The way sweet Mrs. Hayne decorated her husband's study partakes of the heroic. "She patiently cut picture after picture from magazines, from illustrated papers, anywhere she could find them, and pasted them upon the pine wood wall till it was all covered. There is infinite variety in this pretty and pathetic monument of a wife's love. A copy of an old church painting of Christ hangs not far from a picture of a horse race.

Mrs. Hayne also, with her own hands, upholstered the chair in which the poet sits among his books. She even made the book case, which was originally a number of pine boxes.

Mr. Haynes' poems are admired and appreciated on both sides of the Atlantic,

ATLANTIC CITY SIGHTS.

PICTURES TAKEN ON THE SPOT OF FAIR BATHERS AND OTHERS.

Philadelphia's Coney Island — Bathing Costumes that Never Get Wet — In the Sands Under Red Umbrellas—The Board Walk—The Sandbox.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 13.—Philadelphia appears to understand solid comfort better than New York does. The nearer her vicinity one approaches the cheaper and more comfortable the necessities of life become. There is more free-heartedness apparently, and people with wares to sell do not seem so much of razor-faced sharpers whose aim is to get the last cent out of you and give as little as possible in return. You get more things free than elsewhere.

This generous, hospitable disposition is shown even in Philadelphia's watering place, Atlantic City. It is a place that has shoved ahead tremendously. Twenty-five years ago only duck hunters and fishermen knew what a paradise of a spot it was. Now it has a permanent population of 10,000. It is noted, they say, for mosquitoes and girls with red hair and freckles. But the mosquitoes one can defend himself against, and the red-haired girls with freckles he does not want to be protected from.

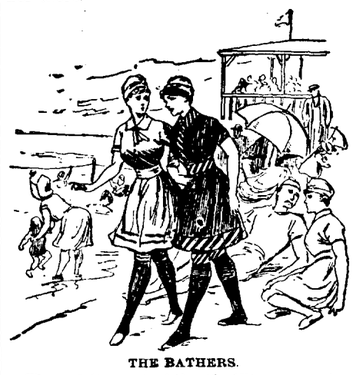

Atlantic City is situated upon a long, narrow, sandy island upon the New Jersey coast. The island is called Absecom beach, and Atlantic City is sixty miles southeast of Philadelphia. Several railroads pass through the place. There is a lighthouse, called Absecom light, upon the north end of the island, which is not, however, called an island at all, but a beach. Atlantic City is an all the year around resort, and hundreds of thousands of people come here.

WHAT PEOPLE DO.

A summer resort is supposed to be where people go to rest and recuperate. How they do it at Atlantic City you will see by the picture. The "board walk," as it is called, is a raised plank promenade that runs along and above the beach from one end of Atlantic City to the other. It is nearly three miles long, is fifteen feet wide, and is crowded with humanity from morning till night. Sometimes the footsteps of 200,000 persons patter upon its boards of a single evening. The crowd are as hot, as elbowed, and jammed and tired as if it was a continual Coney Island Sunday excursion. Yet they like it, for it is change, and change is about the only rest worth having.

Atlantic City is the Coney Island of Philadelphia, they say, except that it is not so expensive. Here are booths, stands, steam calliopes, merry-go-rounds and catch-penny shows inconceivable. Photographers will give you your picture by instantaneous process. When they see a couple that look spooney, the sly dogs murmur confidently, "Your photographs taken together, twenty-five cents." The bait often takes. It is whispered that the spooney couples are sometimes married couples, and not married to each other, either, and that these twenty-five cent photographs, "taken together," have figured as dumb witnesses in divorce cases before now. But that is neither here nor there.

THE BATHERS.

The visitors at Atlantic City are not so conventional as at the resorts farther north. The nearer the cold north one gets the more prudish surf bathers and others become. In Atlantic City fair girls promenade for hours upon the beach in bathing costumes. They look as trim and neat as pretty girls well can in the sensational bathing costumes they adopt. Brightly contrasted blue and white are the favorite colors. Black stockings, often of silk, reach up to the close fitting trousers at the knee. All the women affect black hose for bathing this summer. A little white canvas bathing slipper strapped or tied fast, completes the costume downward. The girls tie fancy handkerchiefs over oilskin caps to keep their hair dry, and they have some kind of scarf tied in a sailor knot under a broad collar at the neck.

The beautiful wretches wear corsets with these fancy bathing suits, and squeeze themselves up and strap themselves down like veritable fat French women. Corsets are offered with the hired bathing suits regularly now. After bathing hours the clothes lines in the vicinity of the women's dressing rooms show a string of wet, bent, discolored and hideous looking corsets that are enough to make any one with æsthetic instincts shudder.

They even insist, heaven save the mark! that it is only the proper thing for women and girls to wear corsets into the surf. A strange thing, this devotion of women to her corset. You may break you may shatter her, you may pound her into a jelly and drive her through fire and brimstone and shoot her through a two-inch plank, but she will cling to her corset still. The stiff, steel rits and bones destroy freedom of muscle in the water and hopelessly hinder a woman from learning to swim, and she knows it, but yet she hangs to that pair of stays like grim death. Nothing will separate her from it. Therefore long live the corset and the woman who pants and writhes inside of it while she goes in surf bathing.

After bathing, the spooney couples and flirting couples dig in the sand and sun themselves. They plant a huge umbrella down deep into the ground and hide their heads under it, leaving the rest of their bodies in the sunshine. They lay their heads together under the red umbrella, and so remain for hours. But what they say and do there is mostly unknown to the public.

IN THE SANDS.

The pretty girls promenade the sands in their ravishing bathing costumes, and get their photographs taken in them. But when it comes to going into the surf, some of them slip off to the dressing rooms and hire a cheap bathing suit, and wear that in the water. The splendors of the other are for the sands, and not to be dimmed by contact with the salt sea. It is a good idea.

A favorite spot for the girls is the "sand box." Here they come in groups and gangs to lounge under red umbrellas from morning till noon, before and after bathing hours. Here much spooning is done. The sand box is a long wooden framework, a sort of pier, filled with sand.

Ladies go crabbing, too, at Atlantic City. The favorite spot is an inlet five miles away. They drive along the beach to the place. All along the coast here the sand is hard, firm and smooth as a floor, making at low tide an unequaled drive.

Atlantic City contains nine churches and 130 drinking saloons. A writer says that the women support the churches and the men support the saloons. There are, besides, nearly 700 boarding houses and hotels, mostly well filled. SARAH KING.

They are Not Sorry.

There is one thing nobody ever regrets—that is, the day they first adopted Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else, except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

Hay Fever Sufferers.

The number of people annually afflicted with this most annoying malady seems to be greatly on the increase. * * The editor of this journal is an annual victim, and, with a view to discover a specific cure, has tried numerous remedies. Of these Ely's Cream Balm is by all odds the quickest and most satisfactory, two applications greatly allaying the usual symptoms in the nose and eyes. We would recommend its use by all subject to hay fever, and we gladly bear unsolicited testimony to its efficacy in our own case. * * * Media, Pa., Record.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well."

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. STANTON, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

"Mrs. R. Evans, Mrs. Sweeters and John Schoole, of Fort Wayne, well known in Lafayette, are the guests of the family of the late Diedrich Herbert, whose funeral they came here to attend," says the Lafayette Courier.

The Gazette has placed itself in a ridiculous light on the tax question and every word it utters, makes it worse. The newspaper must establish a policy if it hopes to have any influence in the community. It's course is to be pitied.

Clara Bogash had Alice Nichols arrested for provoke. Alice in turn had Clara arrested and Justice France dealt out justice to both females. The quarrel occurred at the Tivoli garden.

Young Warren Withers is out of jail, Capt. J. B. White having gone his bail in the sum of $200. The lad has been wayward, notwithstanding his family has done everything for him. He will be punished lightly if he makes an effort to behave himself and assist his mother on her farm.

Frank Voirol is not superstitious but he has facts to frighten such people. He discovers that this year began on Friday and ends on Friday. There are fifty three Fridays in the year and four months open on Friday, while the moon changes fifteen times on Friday. These are awful omens they say.

Mrs. Max Nirdlinger and daughter, Maude, are now located at the Manitaw hotel, Manitaw Springs, Col. They report the climate delightful, cool and bracing. From the porches of the hotel can be seen the snow capped Rocky Mountains. At Denver they met quite a colony of Fort Wayne people.

"Rev. J. K. Walts, of Warsaw, made a very pleasant call at the Plain Dealer office Monday. He is one of a family of thirteen children, whom their parents named for uncles and aunts, and when the thirteenth child was born they ran out of names. This explains why his brot herat Logansport has the same name," says the Wabash Plain Dealer.

Fred. the oldest son of Mr. James E. Graham was coming down town on his bicycle this morning and on Lafayette street, he encountered one of the Bass foundry trucks. As he reached the vehicle he took a "header" and shot to the earth. His arms were spread out and the wheels of the wagon smashed his right hand awfully.

Brandt, Toledo; George Skinner, Cleveland; secretary and treasurer, Samuel Shimp, Alliance.

People who have had their cows in pasture have turned them loose on the city. Others are driven in from the country to roam on vacant city property and people who removed fences are at the mercy of the strolling cattle. A few weeks ago Councilman Buttenbender, a cow champion, wanted the court house fence removed. It is mighty lucky his request was not granted, else some one would be herding cows on the green today. The present cow ordinance is declared defective and Fort Wayne goes back on a level with a country village. What a nice picture this is for a progressive city, but it is not going to last, for public indignation is aroused at the indecency of converting the streets and sidewalks into cow yards.

The Wabash shop was closed to-day.

Mr. George F. Seeley is in the city and is greeting his many friends.

The Journal this morning publishes as "local" an item from the state health report, printed in THE SENTINEL two days ago as "state news."

Captain Frank Rawles is drilling the Fort Wayne Rifles nightly. Captain Rawles is awfully handsome in uniform and the girls all think so.

The two deaf and dumb children of Henry Bullerman arrived from Norris, where there is a school for their kind, to pass the vacation at their home here.

Collector Tom Hanlon, of the Southern federal district of Indiana, used to be a train boy on the Pittsburg and Fort Wayne road, when Superintendent P. S. O'Rourke, of the Grand Rapids railway, was a conductor on the line. Both are now great men.

Mr. A. C. Trentman is just booming his wholesale trade and Fort Wayne is proud of her merchant prince. Yesterday he almost doubled his working force and put two more teams hauling from his store to the railroads. ED. BAINBRIDGE.

A Fort Wayne Boy Arrested for Murder at Kansas City.

Mont Bookwalter writes his brother, C. A. Bookwalter, a startling piece of news from Kansas City. Ed. Bainbridge, who used to live here and was once a fireman at THE SENTINEL office, is under arrest for murder at Kansas City. He worked in the gas factory there and he and a companion started out for a walk after being paid. The next heard of the latter was when his dead body was fished out of the Missouri River. The police traced the affair and say that Bainbridge and the murdered man were last seen together and now the Fort Wayne boy is behind the bars under a charge of murder and robbery. Bainbridge has a sister, Mrs. Doutrich, living here and he is a well known character. His friends doubt that he ever killed the man, as he was not the sort of a character to commit so awful a crime, although he had trouble with his wife here. The woman now lives in Bloomingdale.

THE DEATHS.

People Who Have Joined the Silent Majority.

These deaths have occurred since last Saturday according to the report of city undertakers:

August Rath, aged 68 years, dropsy of the heart.

Eugene Sullivan, 6 years, kidney disease.

Junius Eaton, 27 years, accident.

Grace Strawbridge, 3 years, diptheria.

Wm. Powers, 11 years, drowned.

Rudolph Mittendorf, 7 years, scarlet fever.

Barry Ralope, 19 years, inflammation of the bowels.

Elizabeth Mittendorf, 2 years, scarlet fever.

Agnes Greer, 21 years, brain fever.

Emma Jones, 48 years, inflammation of the bowels.

Fredericka Schafernacker, 33 years, debility.

Child of J. F. Irvin, still born.

Catherine Brown, 7 years, scarlet fever.

Wm. Golden, 77 years, old age.

Mary Durnell, 30 years, consumption.

IS IT PORTER?

A Former Fort Wayne Boy Fatally Hurt.

The Chicago Herald of July 16 says: "Charles Porter, a respectable looking man, was taken to the county hospital yesterday suffering from a fracture of the skull. He fell down the stairs at 406 State street about noon and could not speak afterward except to say that he was a bookkeeper for the Chicago Storage company."

Captain Diehl thinks the above is Charley Porter, who was once assistant to Superintendent C. D. Gorham, when he was on the Pittsburg road. Porter of late years has been drinking hard and was cared for by Mrs. Frank Gant who used to live here.

EUGENE FONTAINE.

The Former Fort Wayne Gentleman in a New Role.

The Defiance Democrat says that Mr. Eugene Fontaine, of the famous Fontaine locomotive, has perfected a device which renders railroad crossings endless, and he and W. A. Kettenring, of that city have interested a number of the leading railroad engineers of the country in the invention. By special arrangement the Defiance Machine works is now manufacturing a crossing of the Fontaine device, which, in about two weeks, will be placed in the Toledo middle ground at the crossing of the Wabash and Lake Shore railroads, a place where heretofore it has been necessary to replace crossings as often as every sixty or ninety days. Railroad officials will watch the test with much interest, and if the working is satisfactory the leading roads of the country will give orders for the Fontaine crossing. In that event a factory will be erected especially for the manufacture of this device, and Fort Wayne may bid for it. Mr. Fontaine is the father of Mrs. George A. Fry.

WE'LL HAVE A LAKE.

The Baltes Flats to Be Converted Into a Big Sheet of Water.

Mr. Luce Stapleford caught on to THE SENTINEL'S suggestion that Fort Wayne ought to have a lake and is foremost in the movement. The low land just north of the city cannot be utilized, as a dam in the river would destroy the water power at the Rudisill dam and cripple the wheel of the Esmond mill. He conceives that the big Baltes and Koenig flats, just east of Spy Run avenue, will answer the purpose better and after a high drive is constructed all about it, water can be taken from the feeder canal by a pipe line and Fort Wayne is situated on the banks of a picturesque lake. Mr. Stapleford is testing the public pulse and has a subscription paper which Mr. C. L. Centlivre and L. M. Jones start with $1,000 each. It looks as though this project had life.

KILLED A TRAMP.

A Wabash Brakeman in a Bad Fix.

Wm. Bell, a tramp from Newark, N. J., who was found on the Wabash railroad track, near Kellers, with his shoulder crushed to a pulp and one foot cut off, was taken to Wabash and died at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Just before his demise, Bell stated that he had boarded Wabash freight train No. 97 to ride to Peru, and at Kellers, the head brakeman knocked him off the car and under the wheels. The authorities will endeavor to capture the brakeman and are now tracing the man with the aid of the Wabash detective. It is hinted he is a Fort Wayne man.

A QUESTION ABOUT Brown's Iron Bitters ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times, "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. It does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemical firm will substantiate the assertion that there are more preparations of iron than of any other substance used in medicine This shows conclusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfectly satisfactory iron combination had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Headache and Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, however, does not cure in a minute. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When taken by men the first symptom of benefit is renewed energy. The muscles then become firmer, the digestion improves, the bowels are active. In women the effect is usually more rapid and marked. The eyes begin at once to brighten; the skin clears up; healthy color comes to the cheeks; nervousness disappears; functional derangements become regular, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY iron medicine that is not injurious. Physicians and Druggists recommend it.

The Genuine has Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. TAKE NO OTHER.

BOMBS!

Sensational Testimony at Chicago.

A Frenchman Who Had Mercy on His Antagonist in a Duel Near Paris This Morning.

Forest Fires in Wisconsin and Already 100,000,000 Feet of Timber Burned Up.

ANARCHISTS.

The Revolutionists Exposed by One of Them.

CHICAGO, July 17.—When the court was opened this morning Waller was again placed on the stand. The witness testified that a bomb was given him by Fischer Thanksgiving day last with instructions to use it on the police if they interfered with the meeting to be held that evening at the Market street square. He kept it in his house for two weeks and then the witness went to the haymarket meeting armed with the dynamite bomb.

At this point Waller was shown a photograph of an anarchist named Schnarbett, which he identified and it was placed in evidence. The witness continued his testimony saying, that Schnarbett was at the meeting.

"Did Schnarbett say anything at the meeting?"

"He said we should tell other members what we had decided to do. He said the thing should commence in another place."

"What do you mean by the thing?"

"The revolution."

A BLOODLESS DUEL.

Two Frenchmen Fight With Pistols, But Come Out Unhurt.

PARIS, July 17.—The duel between General Boulanger and Baron De Lareinty, was fought at 9 o'clock this morning. The weapons were pistols, and the place of meeting was in a forest near Mendon five miles west of Paris. When the command fire was given, Baron De Larienty shot at Gen. Boulanger. The latter coolly awaited the result of the shot without firing himself. Finding himself untouched by his opponent's bullet, Gen. Boulanger raised his pistol and fired into the air. The combatants then left the field. Gen. Boulanger returned to Paris and went straight to his office at the war department. A large crowd assembled to learn the result of the duel and they gave Gen. Boulanger an ovation when he appeared.

The London correspondent of the Journal Des Debats says the Earl of Rosebery, the British foreign minister, has sent to Russia a precise and emphatic protest against the closing of Batoum.

Witness testified that a meeting was held in Bohemian hall Sunday, May 2. Engel and Fischer (two of the defendants) and a number of other socialists were present. Engle submitted a plan according to which, as soon it came to conflict between the police and northwestern groups, bombs should be thrown into the police stations. Then the rifle men of Lehr, und wehr verein, were to be posted at a distance and shoot all who should come out of the station house. That was to be kept up until they were whipped. We were to kill every body who opposed us. Some one in the meeting opposed the plan. I don't know the man, but he said it would be better to get into crowds in the city and there kill people right and left."

Another man opposed this plan. He said: "We could not know our neighbors in the crowd. We might kill our friends by mistake." Engels plan was finally adopted by the meeting.

The oldest brewry in Indiana is near Evansville. It was erected in 1837. At that time the Indians were still numerous.

FOREST FIRES

Devastate the Lumber Region of Wisconsin.

FLORENCE, Wis., July 17.—The Drought in this section continues and the forest fires are wide spread. A prominent lumber man says that at least 100,000,000 feet of pine lumber has been destroyed already in the Menominee region and that the timber loss by fire is the greatest for years.

THE CROPS.

The Prospects of a Good Crop Not very Favorable.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 17.—A special crop report to the Pioneer Press states: Wheat harvesting has commenced in southern Minnesota and Dakota. In northern Minnesota and Dakota harvesting will not begin much before August 1. It is now the general expectation that Minnesota and Dakota will not produce more than three-fourths as much wheat as last year. The hot weather of the past ten days has been very favorable to corn in the northwest.

The News in Brief.

SMALL NEWS.

The supreme lodge of the world, Knights of Pythias, elected officers yesterday at Toronto, Ont. Howard Douglass, of Cincinnati, was chosen supreme chancellor.

It is stated that the dramatist, Bartley Campbell, who is in inmate of the Bloomingdale lunatic asylum, is in a critical condition.

Four cars of the Forepaugh circus train were wrecked yesterday morning at Vassalborough, Maine, several men being injured and twenty-five horses killed. Two men are believed to be under the wreck.

There are rumors that Major James Maxwell is to be appointed chief of police of Chicago, in place of Fred Ebersold, and that Inspector Bonner will be given almost complete control of the detective service.

Charles Mitchell, the pugilist, left New York for England with $23,000. Three years ago he landed on this side of the Atlantic without a dollar.

SINCE he began making up the Lincoln memorial collection, Mr. Isaac R. Keyes, of Chicago, has acquired a good deal of correspondence bearing upon the subject of Lincoln's life. The most remarkable letter in the lot was written by William H. Herndon, and bears date of Springfield, Ill., April 14, 1887, from which the following is an extract: I became acquainted with him (Lincoln) in 1834, and in 1843 Mr. Lincoln and I became partners in the land business. Our partnership was never legally dissolved until the night of his assassination, but after his election he would take none of the fees of our land business. Mr. Lincoln was not appreciated in this city, nor was he at all times the most popular man among us. The cause of his unpopularity—rather the want of popularity here—arose from two causes: First, he did his own thinking; and, second, he had the courage of his convictions, and boldly and fearlessly expressed them. I speak generally, and especially of his political life. * * * Mr. Lincoln was a sad man, a gloomy man, and hence he was not very social in his nature. He seemed to me to be an unhappy man at times. He dearly loved his children, but he was not the happiest man in the world domestically. As a friend Mr. Lincoln was true—true as steel. He thought in his life and lived in his thought. In many things Mr. Lincoln was peculiar. He did not trust any man with the secrets of his ambitious soul. He was a wonderful man, and his fame will grow on the ages.

"PIECE WORK."

Mr. F. D. Casanave Writes Two Able Papers on the Theory.

Mr. F. D. Casanave, master mechanic of the Pittsburg machine department, has contributed two articles on "Piece Work" to the New York Railroad Gazette. Mr. Casanave wields a strong pen and proves in the first article that piece work is advantageous in railroad shops, even with the additional clerical force it incurs. In his second letter he considers "piece work" in its relations to the labor difficulties. In this paper Mr. Casanave is very forcible and proves that piece work is a solution of the labor question inasmuch as every man is paid according to his skill and ability to make money for his employers. Every man stands on his own merits and, as is the scheme in the printing offices the world over, men work for themselves in a measure and reap the benefit of their own knowledge, skill and industry, without contributing to the support of their indolent neighbors. He insists that workmen should get good prices for their piece work so that the aggregate would be equal to the average wages prevailing.

NEW PAVEMENT.

Brick is a Recommended as a Good Article for Little Money.

Fort Wayne is in need of new pavement and the city officers are discussing the various materials in the market. Mr. E. C. Rurode tells us that brick pavement is the latest and possibly the best and cheapest sort of street blocking discovered. It is now in use at Decatur, Ill., and is so satisfactory that the material is adopted there generally. Mr. J. R. Hoffman, a brother of Messrs. W. H. and E. A. Hoffman, of this city, writes Mayor Muhler that brick pavement has been in use at Charleston, West Virginia, for fourteen years and is now better than any pavement in Fort Wayne. He discribes the pavement as smooth, solid and intended to bear heavy work. The brick are laid on a plank saturated with coal tar, with a surface of sand and cost $1.07 per square yard. Mr. Hoffman has frequently visited Fort Wayne and is anxious that the pavement be tested.

WAR IN MEXICO.

The Troops Congregating and Preparing for Battle.

NEW LAREDO, July 17.—The excitement ran high yesterday, caused by sensational reports coming in from Mier and Guerrero. It is said the whole country in that section is in arms and recruits are going there from the American side of the river. This city has been chosen as headquarters for the government troops in the northern part of the Tamaulapas. Last evening the Monterey train, over the Mexican National, brought in 250 troops, who immediately went into camp at the government barracks, and are awaiting marching orders from Matamoras. They are commanded by Colonel Parras.

ST. LOUIS, July 17.—A special from Brownsville, Texas, says: "The revolution in Tamaulapas, Mexico, appears to be increasing daily and troops in this section seem utterly unable to cope with it. A number have crossed into Texas to steal arms and a sheriff and the United States troops have gone to disperse them."

GONE TO CANADA.

A Pension Office Clerk Leaves Suddenly to Avoid Arrest.

PITTSBURG, July 17.—Samuel K. Gay, chief clerk of the Pittsburg pension office, has probably gone to Canada. Yesterday Pension Agent Russell Errett discovered that Gay had forged his name to three checks, aggregating $800. An information for forgery was made and a warrant was issued, but too late. It is believed the amount from forgery and embezzlement will reach $15,000 to $20,000. Gay was the son of wealthy parents and some years ago married a relative of Mayor Fultons. He was an exemplary young man.

CASHIER BELTZER.

The Absconding Banker Brings Down Another Bank.

OMAHA, Neb., July 17.—Cashier Beltzer, who wrecked the Dundy county bank, has also wrecked the Chase county bank at Imperial, of which he was the president. Chase is the youngest county in the state, and the bank of which the fugitive was president, has been in operation only a short time. Its patrons were homesteaders and ranchmen, who will lose about $35,000. The assets of the bank will not exceed $3,000.

TERRIBLE CASUALTY.

Two Children Scalded in a Boiler Explosion.

WELLSVILLE, Ohio, July 17.—An upright boiler in the boiler shop of Joseph Fasett, on Second street, exploded this morning, wrecking almost the entire building. None of the employes were injured. Two children of Mrs. Maggie Driscoll, Clara aged five and Mary aged three, were playing in the door-yard, opposite the boiler room and were caught and held fast by the debris, while the scalding steam poured over them. Clara was dead when taken from the ruins and Maggie is terribly scalded and may not recover.

The republicans of the second congressional district met in convention at Washington yesterday and nominated Rev. M. S. Ragsdale, of Knoxville county, for congress. The democratic majority in the district is about 1,800.

Democratic joint conventions at Madison, last evening, nominated David McClure, of Clark county, for joint senator for Clark and Jefferson, and John R. Cushman, editor of the Madison Herald for joint representative for Jefferson, Clark and Floyd counties.

The first district democratic congressional convention met at Boonville Thursday. The opposing candidates were Major G. V. Menzies, of Posey, and Hon. J. E. McCullough, of Gibson. After wrangling from 12 till 6 o'clock, Chairman Curtis declared the convention adjourned till the second Tuesday in August, and the Menzies men withdrew. The McCullough men remained, organized a new convention and nominated their candidate, giving him 197 votes, two being polled for Menzies. Posy county was not represented.

Attorney General Hord, in answer to questions from the governor, decides that if a justice of the peace is his own successor he must take the oath and give bonds, or the office may be declared vacant. A justice acting without bond is an officer de facto, and his acts are valid and his sureties liable on the old bond for misconduct in office. In certifying to an appointment of a justice to the governor for a commission it is necessary that the record should contain such a recitation of facts that the governor may determine his authority to act and the facts should show a vacancy.

The edition will be very large.

GEN. DAN. E. SICKLES," as a gossipy writer says, "is spoken of as next Mayor of New York. I saw this well-known war veteran the other day. He drives a pretty little coupe with the escutcheon of the United States on its panels, and is frequently accompanied by a handsome woman, the Spanish lady he married at Madrid, when he was American Minister there. The General has had an exciting history if any man ever had. Yet, how well he looks! His hair is still dark, and he holds his head proudly thrown back like a fiery boy of 20."

A LITTLE SUFFERER

Cleansed, Purified, and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by you Cuticura Remedies. When six months old his left hand began to swell and had every appearance of a large boil. We politiced it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with Cuticura Remedies, using the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the Cuticura Resolvent, his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged, and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All that physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the Cuticura Remedies and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who, being with him every day, became accustomed to the disease.

Catarrhal Dangers,

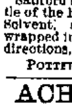

To be freed from the dangers of suffocation while lying down; to breathe freely, sleep soundly and undisturbed; to rise refreshed, head clear, brain active and free from pain or ache; to know that no poisonous, putrid matter defiles the breath and rots away the delicate machinery of smell, taste and hearing; to feel that the system does not, through its veins and arteries, suck up the poison that is sure to undermine and destroy, is indeed a blessing beyond all other human enjoyments. To purchase immunity from such a fate should be the object of all afflicted. But those who have tried many remedies and physicians despair of relief or cure.

Sanford's Radical Cure meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never-failing.

Sanford's Radical Cure consists of one bottle of the Radical Cure, one box of Catarrhal Solvent, and one Improved Inhaler, all wrapped in one package, with treatise and directions, and sold by all druggists for $1.00.

The charge exploded, Herman was blown nearly to the top of the well, and fell back dead, with every bone in his body broken.

JUDGE DAVIS' recommendations for office were curiosities. He was too jealous of his independent position to ask favors of the Republican administration, and was too good-natured to refuse an application. So he always wrote a letter informing whoever it was addressed to that he could not and would not recommend anyone for appointment, but he had the honor to commend the bearer as a gentleman of the highest character, etc., and hoped he would succeed in securing the place he sought.

THE Los Angeles Herald mentions a plant which is said to be a sure cure for snake bites. The plant is called the "spider lily," and displays a beautiful flower that makes it a fine ornament for yards and gardens. The leaves can be dried and preserved for years. When needed for a sting or a bite they can be moistened and applied in the form of a poultice to the wound. If used when green there is no necessity for moistening the plant, as all that is necessary is to bruise the leaves and apply them to the wound.

A STATISTICAL expert calculates that if 1,000,000 babies started together in the race of life, 150,000 would drop out in the first year, 53,000 in the second, and 22,000 in the third year. At the end of forty-five years about half of them would be still in the race. Sixty years would see 370,000 gray heads still at it. At the end of eighty years there would be 97,000 remaining on the track; fifteen years later the number would be reduced to 233, and the winner would quit the track forever at the age of 108.

THE Victoria Colonist says that one of the most terrible scenes at the burning of the town of Vancouver was witnessed at the opening of the jail by those in charge, followed by a rush of the prisoners into saloons, of which they took complete charge. Becoming crazed with liquor, they rushed through the streets, doing all the mischief they could, and terrorized everybody with whom they came in contact. It was a veritable carnival of crime, which, added to the other indescribable horrors, made the scene a horrible and revolting one.

OF D. D. Home, the lately deceased Spiritualist, the New York Tribune says: "It has been again and again affirmed of Mr. Home by witnesses of unimpeached character that they have seen him plunge his hands with impunity into a blazing coal fire and take up the glowing embers like so many strawberries; seat himself upon a heavy mahogany dining table and raise with them several feet into the air, and after floating horizontally head foremost out of the windows at a height many yards from the ground, sail tranquilly around a castle tower and come in again unharmed on the other side."

A GOTHAM broker has, by taking advantage of the speculative tendencies of Congressmen, made a neat pile of money during the present session of Congress. Early during the session he went to Washington and acquainted himself with members of the Pacific Railroad Committee. From them he obtained accurate knowledge as to the time when the extension bill would be called up in the House. Whenever this subject was publicly agitated Pacific Railroad stock fluctuated violently, and the young broker was able to call the turn for his speculative Congressional friends to mutual advantage.

Exactly expresses the condition of thousands of people at this season. The depressing effects of warm weather and the weak condition of the body, can only be corrected by the use of a reliable tonic and blood purifier like Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why suffer longer when a remedy is so close at hand? Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now. It will give you untold wealth in health, strength and enery.

SAM JONES, in a recent sermon at St. Paul, said: "I never got down low enough to preach against tobacco. There are so many other more important subjects to preach about that I haven't got time to give my attention to tobacco. A man can't chew tobacco and be a gentleman, but he can use tobacco and be a Christian. I know it, for I did it for thirteen years, just as sure as you live. The best man I ever knew chewed tobacco every day, and one of the meanest men I ever know never touched it in his life. Let me tell you, I'd rather be a member of the church and do my whole duty most of the time and once in a while have a big drunk, than to be one of those trifling, sunshiny, no-account members, drunk or sober. Quit your meanness! there's gospel enough in these words for the whole world."

A COMPREHENSIVE document has just been issued from the Government printing office at Washington. It contains all the testimony recently taken before the United States Senate Committe on Agriculture and Forestry in regard to the manufacture and sale of imitation dairy products. Like the evidence in many other disputed cases, there is a great deal of it, both pro and con. One set of men called as experts testified that these imitation products are just as good and healthful as the pure butter and cheese; some say they are much more cleanly than the average material that is made on the farm, and a few claim that both the consumer and the farmer have been immensely benefited, the one by a cheapening process which enables him to enjoy the substitute for something he could not afford to buy, and the other by providing a much better market for his property than could otherwise be found. The first and last of these positions are especially opposed to the testimony of others. Figures are adduced to prove the claim that the dairy interests have suffered immensely by the manufacture of butterine and oleomargarine, while Prof. E. D. Salmon, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, says it admits of no doubt whatever that "the fat of animals slaughtered for food may contain objectionable parasites' which are not killed off by the low temperatures at which the substitute is prepared for market. He quotes what many people would regard as ample authority for his assertion; that certain named parasites are found in larger numbers in the connective tissues between the fats than elsewhere, and that "the danger connected with the use of oleomargarine, from the liability of the presence of such worms, which are parasites in man as well as in animals, is one that is deserving of thoughtful consideration."

PAUL HAMILTON HAYNE.

PORTRAIT AND SKETCH OF THE CHIEF SOUTHERN POET.

His Four-Roomed Cottage Among the Sweet Smelling Georgia Pines—His Picturesquely Adorned Study—The Poet and His Books.

A feeling of regret and sadness filled the hearts of those who read recently that Paul H. Hayne, the southern poet, had been suddenly attacked with blood clot on the brain and died next day. Mr. Hayne has long been almost an invalid. He has had slight hemorrhages from the lungs for years. It is only the watchful care of a lovely and loving wife that has kept him able to do any literary work at all.

The whole country will share in the regret at the announcement of Mr. Hayne's death. Gradually he was becoming more and more favorably known as a poet, and his literary contributions were more and more frequent in the best periodicals of the country.

Paul Hayne's history is rather romantic. He comes of a South Carolina family of long descent. His uncle it was, Col. Robert Y. Hayne, who had the memorable controversy with Daniel Webster in the United States senate on the occasion when "Black Dan" passed his celebrated encomium on Massachusetts and said: "There she stands, look at her!"

PAUL H. HAYNE.

But he did not have so bad a life of it at first. He was born in Charleston, in 1830. His family was well-to-do and he enjoyed all the advantages of wealth and a choice society.

At the time Hayne passed his young manhood there, Charleston was also the center of a literary life which has never since been equaled. It was the home of John C. Calhoun, of Gilmore Sims and of Legare. From these Hayne drew incitements to his young ambition. A good-looking, gallant youth he was, slight and graceful, with piercing black eyes and a clear, dark complexion, whose freshness he retained at the age of 50.

He studied law and was admitted to the bar. He never practiced his profession. Probably in those days he was too busy inditing "sonnets to his lady's eyebrow" to look after clients. He was married at 23 to his devoted, sunny wife.

He was and is still an ultra-southerner. When the war broke out he entered the Confederate army as a member of Gen. Pickens' staff. His health had never been robust, and the exposures of a soldier's life did not help it any. After that, troubles came thick and fast. His mother had been wealthy "befo' de wah." That swept away all. Haynes' future was not promising. He was too much of a poet to enter on a business or professional career and recoup himself from his losses.

COPSE HILL, HAYNE'S HOME.

Under the circumstances, he certainly did the wisest, wholesomest thing. He retired to the lands known as the "Pine Barrens," sixteen miles from Augusta, Ga. In the midst of the oak and pine trees he built a cottage of four rooms, and lived there and wrote poetry. He is a lover of nature, and, like Bryant, the poet of nature. But he had printed verses long before this, in his youth. His first volume was published in Boston, when he was 20 years old. Before the war he had printed three volumes. During the years following 1860 he published his most famous poems. Stirred in all the depths of his soul, he wrote war lyrics. "Beyond the Potomac" was the one most widely circulated. He has issued two volumes since living in the lonely, sweet-smelling woods at Copse Hill.

THE POET'S LIBRARY.

"Legends and Lyrics," which appeared in 1872, is considered the best collection of his works. He is undoubtedly the chief living southern poet. His style is characterized both by strength and daintiness of expression. He ought to have lived many years yet, and done his best work still.

The family at Copse Hill consists of three—father, mother and son. William, the pretty boy of a few years ago, is now a grown man. They have never been anything but poor, yet they are very happy. The way sweet Mrs. Hayne decorated her husband's study partakes of the heroic. "She patiently cut picture after picture from magazines, from illustrated papers, anywhere she could find them, and pasted them upon the pine wood wall till it was all covered. There is infinite variety in this pretty and pathetic monument of a wife's love. A copy of an old church painting of Christ hangs not far from a picture of a horse race.

Mrs. Hayne also, with her own hands, upholstered the chair in which the poet sits among his books. She even made the book case, which was originally a number of pine boxes.

Mr. Haynes' poems are admired and appreciated on both sides of the Atlantic.

ATLANTIC CITY SIGHTS.

PICTURES TAKEN ON THE SPOT OF FAIR BATHERS AND OTHERS.

Philadelphia's Coney Island — Bathing Costumes that Never Get Wet—In the Sands Under Red Umbrellas—The Board Walk—The Sandbox.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 13.—Philadelphia appears to understand solid comfort better than New York does. The nearer her vicinity one approaches the cheaper and more comfortable the necessities of life become. There is more free-heartedness apparently, and people with wares to sell do not seem so much of razor-faced sharpers whose aim is to get the last cent out of you and give as little as possible in return. You get more things free than elsewhere.

This generous, hospitable disposition is shown even in Philadelphia's watering place, Atlantic City. It is a place that has shoved ahead tremendously. Twenty-five years ago only duck hunters and fishermen knew what a paradise of a spot it was. Now it has a permanent population of 10,000. It is noted, they say, for mosquitoes and girls with red hair and freckles. But the mosquitoes one can defend himself against, and the red-haired girls with freckles he does not want to be protected from.

Atlantic City is situated upon a long, narrow, sandy island upon the New Jersey coast. The island is called Absecom beach, and Atlantic City is sixty miles southeast of Philadelphia. Several railroads pass through the place. There is a lighthouse, called Absecom light, upon the north end of the island, which is not, however, called an island at all, but a beach. Atlantic City is an all the year around resort, and hundreds of thousands of people come here.

WHAT PEOPLE DO.

A summer resort is supposed to be where people go to rest and recuperate. How they do it at Atlantic City you will see by the picture. The "board walk," as it is called, is a raised plank promenade that runs along and above the beach from one end of Atlantic City to the other. It is nearly three miles long, is fifteen feet wide, and is crowded with humanity from morning till night. Sometimes the footsteps of 200,000 persons patter upon its boards of a single evening. The crowd are as hot, as elbowed, and jammed and tired as if it was a continual Coney Island Sunday excursion. Yet they like it, for it is change, and change is about the only rest worth having.

Atlantic City is the Coney Island of Philadelphia, they say, except that it is not so expensive. Here are booths, stands, steam calliopes, merry go-rounds and catch-penny shows inconceivable. Photographers will give you your picture by instantaneous process. When they see a couple that look spooney, the sly dogs murmur confidently, "Your photographs taken together, twenty-five cents." The bait often takes. It is whispered that the spooney couples are sometimes married couples, and not married to each other, either, and that these twenty-five cent photographs, "taken together," have figured as dumb witnesses in divorce cases before now. But that is neither here nor there.

THE BATHERS

The visitors at Atlantic City are not so conventional as at the resorts farther north. The nearer the cold north one gets the more prudish surf bathers and others become. In Atlantic City fair girls promenade for hours upon the beach in bathing costumes. They look as trim and neat as pretty girls well can in the sensational bathing costumes they adopt. Brigetly contrasted blue and white are the favorite colors. Black stockings, often of silk, reach up to the close fitting trousers at the knee. All the women affect black hose for bathing this summer. A little white canvas bathing slipper strapped or tied fast, completes the costume downward. The girls tie fancy handkerchiefs over oilskin caps to keep their hair dry, and they have some kind of scarf tied in a sailor knot under a broad collar at the neck.

The beautiful wretches wear corsets with these fancy bathing suits, and squeeze themselves up and strap themselves down like veritable fat French women. Corsets are offered with the hired bathing suits regularly now. After bathing hours the clothes lines in the vicinity of the women's dressing rooms show a string of wet, bent, discolored and hideous looking corsets that are enough to make any one with esthetic instincts shudder.

They even insist, heaven save the mark! that it is only the proper thing for women and girls to wear corsets into the surf. A strange thing, this devotion of women to her corset. You may break you may shatter her, you may pound her into a jelly and drive her through fire and brimstone and shoot her through a two-inch plank, but she will cling to her corset still. The stiff, steel ribs and bones destroy freedom of muscle in the water and hopelessly hinder a woman from learning to swim, and she knows it, but yet she hangs to that pair of stays like grim death. Nothing will separate her from it. Therefore long live the corset and the woman who pants and writhes inside of it while she goes in surf bathing.

After bathing, the spooney couples and flirting couples dig in the sand and sun themselves. They plant a huge umbrella down deep into the ground and hide their heads under it, leaving the rest of their bodies in the sunshine. They lay their heads together under the red umbrella, and so remain for hours. But what they say and do there is mostly unknown to the public.

IN THE SANDS

The pretty girls promenade the sands in their ravishing bathing costumes, and get their photographs taken in them. But when it comes to going into the surf, some of them slip off to the dressing rooms and hire a cheap bathing suit, and wear that in the water. The splendors of the other are for the sands, and not to be dimmed by contact with the salt sea. It is a good idea.

A favorite spot for the girls is the "sand box." Here they come in groups and gangs to lounge under red umbrellas from morning till noon, before and after bathing hours. Here much spooning is done. The sand box is a long wooden framework, a sort of pier, filled with sand.

Ladies go crabbing, too, at Atlantic City. The favorite spot is an inlet five miles away. They drive along the beach to the place. All along the coast here the sand is hard, firm and smooth as a floor, making at low tide an unequaled drive.

Atlantic City contains nine churches and 130 drinking saloons. A writer says that the women support the churches and the men support the saloons. There are, besides, nearly 700 boarding houses and hotels, mostly well filled. SARAH KING.

They are Not sorry.

There is one thing nobody ever regrets—that is, the day they first adopted Parker's Tonic as their regular family medicine. Its range is so wide, and its good effects so sure, that nothing else, except good nursing, are needed in a great majority of cases. Buy it, try it, and afterwards it will not require any praise from us.

Hay Fever Sufferers.

The number of people annually afflicted with this most annoying malady seems to be greatly on the increase. * * The editor of this journal is an annual victim, and, with a view to discover a specific cure, has tried numerous remedies. Of these Ely's Cream Balm is by all odds the quickest and most satisfactory, two applications greatly allaying the usual symptoms in the nose and eyes. We would recommend its use by all subject to hay fever, and we gladly bear unsolicited testimony to its efficacy in our own case. * * * Media, Pa., Record.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferers at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub wakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Beware of Scrofula

Scrofula is probably more general than any other disease. It is insidious in character, and manifests itself in running sores, pustular eruptions, boils, swellings, enlarged joints, abscesses, sore eyes, etc. Hood's Sarsaparilla expels all trace of scrofula from the blood, leaving it pure, enriched, and healthy.

"I was severely afflicted with scrofula, and for over a year had two running sores on my neck. Took five bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and consider myself cured." C. E. LOVEJOY, Lowell, Mass.

C. A. Arnold, Arnold, Me., had scrofulous sores for seven years, spring and fall. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured him.

Salt Rheum

William Spies, Elyria, O., suffered greatly from erysipelas and salt rheum, caused by handling tobacco. At times his hands would crack open and bleed. He tried various preparations without aid; finally took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and now says: "I am entirely well."

"My son had salt rheum on his hands and on the calves of his legs. He took Hood's Sarsaparilla and is entirely cured." J. B. STANTON, Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

People who have had their cows in pasture have turned them loose on the city. Others are driven in from the country to roam on vacant city property and people who removed fences are at the mercy of the strolling cattle. A few weeks ago Councilman Buttenbender, a cow champion, wanted the court house fence removed. It is mighty lucky his request was not granted, else some one would be herding cows on the green to-day. The present cow ordinance is declared defective and Fort Wayne goes back on a level with a country village. What a nice picture this is for a progressive city, but it is not going to last, for public indignation is aroused at the indecency of converting the streets and sidewalks into cow yards.

ED. BAINBRIDGE.

A Fort Wayne Boy Arrested for Murder at Kansas City.

Mont Bookwalter writes his brother, C. A. Bookwalter, a startling piece of news from Kansas City. Ed. Bainbridge, who used to live here and was once a fireman at THE SENTINEL office, is under arrest for murder at Kansas City. He worked in the gas factory there and he and a companion started out for a walk after being paid. The next heard of the latter was when his dead body was fished out of the Missouri River. The police traced the affair and say that Bainbridge and the murdered man were last seen together and now the Fort Wayne boy is behind the bars under a charge of murder and robbery. Bainbridge has a sister, Mrs. Dontrich, living here and he is a well known character. His friends doubt that he ever killed the man, as he was not the sort of a character to commit so awful a crime, although he had trouble with his wife here. The woman now lives in Bloomingdale.

IS IT PORTER?

A Former Fort Wayne Boy Fatally Hurt.

The Chicago Herald of July 16 says: "Charles Porter, a respectable looking man, was taken to the county hospital yesterday suffering from a fracture of the skull. He fell down the stairs at 406 State street about noon and could not speak afterward except to say that he was a bookkeeper for the Chicago Storage company."

Captain Diehl thinks the above is Charley Porter, who was once assistant to Superintendent C. D. Gorham, when he was on the Pittsburg road. Porter of late years has been drinking hard and was cared for by Mrs. Frank Gaut who used to live here.

EUGENE FONTAINE.

The Former Fort Wayne Gentleman in a New Role.

The Defiance Democrat says that Mr. Eugene Fontaine, of the famous Fontaine locomotive, has perfected a device which renders railroad crossings endless, and he and W. A. Kettenring, of that city have interested a number of the leading railroad engineers of the country in the invention. By special arrangement the Defiance Machine works is now manufacturing a crossing of the Fontaine device, which, in about two weeks, will be placed in the Toledo middle ground at the crossing of the Wabash and Lake Shore railroads, a place where heretofore it has been necessary to replace crossings as often as every sixty or ninety days. Railroad officials will watch the test with much interest, and if the working is satisfactory the leading roads of the country will give orders for the Fontaine crossing. In that event a factory will be erected especially for the manufacture of this device, and Fort Wayne may bid for it. Mr. Fontaine is the father of Mrs. George A. Fry.

WE'LL HAVE A LAKE.

The Baltes Flats to Be Converted Into a Big Sheet of Water.

Mr. Luce Stapleford caught on to THE SENTINEL'S suggestion that Fort Wayne ought to have a lake and is foremost in the movement. The low land just north of the city cannot be utilized, as a dam in the river would destroy the water power at the Rudisill dam and cripple the wheel of the Esmond mill. He conceives that the big Baltes and Koenig flats, just east of Spy Run avenue, will answer the purpose better and after a high drive is constructed all about it, water can be taken from the feeder canal by a pipe line and Fort Wayne is situated on the banks of a picturesque lake. Mr. Stapleford is testing the public pulse and has a subscription paper which Mr. C. L. Centlivre and L. M. Jones start with $1,000 each. It looks as though this project had life.

KILLED A TRAMP.

A Wabash Brakeman in a Bad Fix.

Wm. Bell, a tramp from Newark, N. J., who was found on the Wabash railroad track, near Kellers, with his shoulder crushed to a pulp and one foot cut off, was taken to Wabash and died at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Just before his demise, Bell stated that he had boarded Wabash freight train No. 97 to ride to Peru, and at Kellers, the head brakeman knocked him off the car and under the wheels. The authorities will endeavor to capture the brakeman and are now tracing the man with the aid of the Wabash detective. It is hinted he is a Fort Wayne man.

A QUESTION ABOUT

Brown's Iron Bitters

ANSWERED.

The question has probably been asked thousands of times: "How can Brown's Iron Bitters cure everything?" Well, it doesn't. But it does cure any disease for which a reputable physician would prescribe IRON. Physicians recognize Iron as the best restorative agent known to the profession, and inquiry of any leading chemist will substantiate the assertion that there are more preparations of iron than of any other substance used in medicine. This shows conclusively that iron is acknowledged to be the most important factor in successful medical practice. It is, however, a remarkable fact, that prior to the discovery of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS no perfectly satisfactory iron combination had ever been found.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other iron medicines do. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS cures Indigestion, Biliousness, Weakness, Dyspepsia, Malaria, Chills and Fevers, Tired Feeling, General Debility, Pain in the Side, Back or Limbs, Headache and Neuralgia—for all these ailments Iron is prescribed daily.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, however, does not cure in a minute. Like all other thorough medicines, it acts slowly. When taken by men the first symptom of benefit is restored energy. The muscles then become firmer, the digestive powers, the bowels are active. In women the effect is usually more rapid and marked. The eyes begin at once to brighten; the skin clears up; healthy color comes to the cheeks; nervousness disappears; functional derangements become regular, and if a nursing mother, abundant sustenance is supplied for the child. Remember Brown's Iron Bitters is the ONLY iron medicine that is not injurious. Physicians and Druggists recommend it.
